Overview

Angie Mei Sánchez is an associate in the Firm's Panama office. She provides a spectrum of services in the maritime industry, advising on cross-border financial transactions, vessel registration, sale and purchase, as well as corporate matters and mergers and acquisitions, mitigating risks in high-value transactions for her clients.

Angie has worked on multiple financial matters for several foreign banks as local and international counsel and has assisted numerous clients on structuring multi-vessel financial agreements. Her experience and knowledge has led her to be a key point in our Shipping practice, always committed to deliver work promptly and provide effective solutions.

Angie worked in the public sector as legal counsel in the Directorate General of Merchant Marine of the Panama Maritime Authority for several years, giving her an insight into national legislation and procedures. She assisted in the implementation of multiple regulations in the maritime sector and was one of the key points of contact for the verification of compliance with quality standards of Lloyd's Register Quality Assurance Inc. and ISO 9001:2000 certification during her appointment.
