

Overview

Dentons' dedicated Health Care and Life Sciences teams leverage their industry understanding, legal knowledge and public sector experience to help clients succeed in increasingly competitive and complex business markets.

Health Care

Dentons understands industry regulations and critical market issues across Central America. Our clients gain the confidence to negotiate contracts, manage financing, secure private equity, obtain licenses and certifications and smoothly complete M&A, restructuring and reorganization transactions. With Dentons by your side, you can navigate Central America's complex regulatory environment when handling litigation, regulatory compliance, operations, labor and human resources matters, government relations and other business-critical issues.

We provide results-driven business and legal services to organizations including:

- Hospitals and health care systems
- Government agencies
- Insurance companies
- Investors, banks, lenders and venture capital
- Medical service providers
- Professional associations

Life Sciences

From biotechnology to diagnostics, pharmaceuticals to medical devices, cosmeceuticals to biofuels, companies throughout the life sciences sector trust Dentons for comprehensive legal and business support across Central America.

Our regional team has multijurisdictional, cross-border experience helping life sciences companies in the following areas:

- Corporate structure
- Corporation governance
- Due diligence
- Employee benefits
- Executive compensation
- Capital markets, including financings, IPOs, angel investments and venture capital investments
- IP support and litigation
- Licensing

- Mergers and acquisitions
- Regulatory support

Your Key Contacts

Latin America and the Caribbean

Daniel Araya

Partner, San José

D +506 2503 9806

M +506 8334 0210

daniel.araya@dentons.com