

Overview

With one of Central America's leading banking and finance practices, Dentons Muñoz has managed some of the region's largest, most complex and most significant domestic and international transactions.

Local and foreign banks, major borrowers, insurance companies and other financial institutions come to us for advice on a broad spectrum of transactions. This includes structuring and closing debt financing, creating loan security packages, helping with equity investment and guiding issuance of negotiable instruments. We structure and help implement investment funds and trusts, charter new institutions and provide counsel on financial and insurance regulatory matters.

Key services include:
