

Overview

In an increasingly competitive and interconnected business environment, safeguarding the value of your intellectual property is of paramount concern. The Intellectual Property and Technology group at Dentons Muñoz has extensive experience advising clients on the protection and enforcement of trademarks, patents, designs, copyrights and trade secrets.

Our team of talented lawyers works relentlessly to protect your investments, close your deals and resolve your litigations. We address complex legal questions with advice tailored to your specific business needs.

Inventors, artists, entrepreneurs, public institutions, emerging companies, venture capital groups, global corporations —Dentons Muñoz has successfully represented all of these and more.

Key services include:

- Intellectual property rights
- Data security and privacy
- Technology licensing and sourcing strategies
- Software licensing
- Antipiracy and anti-counterfeiting
- Marketing authorizations
- Life sciences regulations