

Overview

Considered the Ibero-American capital of culture, San José is Costa Rica's bustling capital, its seat of power and its largest city. San José is also where Costa Rica does business. From thriving shipping ports on the Caribbean to the dynamic commercial ports on the Pacific coast, including the vibrant cross-border business with Panama and Nicaragua and the growing agribusiness sector of the country's interior, San José is where the country meets to get deals done.

Rely on us to tap into the extraordinary opportunity in one of Latin America's most important destinations for capital and commerce. With offices near the national government, our team is connected to the city's vibrant business and political community, offering a global perspective with deep local experience.

Our team consists of passionate, innovative strategists, helping our clients, our stakeholders and our employees compete and succeed in a competitive global marketplace.
